

SILVER MEDAL OF BRAVERY

Lieutenant Warren “Jay” Schwab

Firefighter/Technician Adam Steinberg

Firefighter/Technician David Millstein

Firefighter/Technician Leon Norris

Firefighter Jason Patten

Firefighter David Hubler

When Lieutenant Warren “Jay” Schwab and Firefighters Adam Steinberg, David Millstein, Leon Norris, Jason Patten, and David Hubler responded to a call regarding a shooting on January 13, 2011, they were faced with a dangerous situation.

Typically, with a shooter being at large, they would have waited for the police to secure the scene before administering medical care. But, with a victim lying in a pool of blood at the front entrance of the home, and with two others suffering from trauma and gunshot wounds, the firefighters opted to risk their own safety in order to care for the life-threatening injuries at hand. Because of the critical decision making, swift action, and treatment that was provided by these brave recipients, all of the victims survived.

For rendering excellent care while facing a dangerous situation, Lieutenant Schwab and Firefighters Steinberg, Millstein, Norris, Patten, and Hubler are hereby awarded the Silver Medal of Bravery.
